

EJSMR Research Seminar Series 2026

Empowering Future Healthcare Professionals Through Research

Our Mission

At EJSMR, our mission is to make medical and scientific research more accessible, understandable, and achievable for students and young researchers. Through academic guidance and educational initiatives, we aim to build a strong research culture among future healthcare professionals.

Conducted Research Seminars

1. University of South Asia

Research Seminar Highlights EJSMR successfully conducted an impactful Research Seminar at the University of South Asia. The session focused on promoting the importance of research among students and faculty members, introducing the fundamental structure of scientific research, and providing practical guidance on academic writing and article publication.

Key Objectives Achieved:

- Raised awareness about the value of research in medical careers
- Simplified the research process for beginners
- Motivated students to participate in scientific innovation and publication

2. Asian International University

Research Seminar Highlights EJSMR conducted a successful Research Seminar at Asian International University. The interactive session introduced students to the basics of scientific research and guided them on how to transform ideas into publishable articles.

Key Objectives Achieved:

- Promoted research culture among medical students
- Provided hands-on guidance on academic writing
- Encouraged active participation in scientific publications

3. Royal Metropolitan University

Research Seminar Highlights At Royal Metropolitan University, EJSMR delivered an engaging Research Seminar that emphasized the importance of research for future healthcare professionals. Students received clear guidance on research methodology and publication strategies.

Key Objectives Achieved:

- Built foundational knowledge of scientific research
- Motivated students toward academic writing and publishing
- Strengthened research culture within the institution

4. International Higher School of Medicine

Research Seminar Highlights EJSMR successfully organized a Research Seminar at the International Higher School of Medicine. The session was designed to simplify the research journey and inspire students to contribute to scientific knowledge.

Key Objectives Achieved:

- Introduced the complete structure of scientific papers
- Offered practical tips on academic writing and publication
- Encouraged innovation and research participation

5. IUK-ISM (International University of Kyrgyzstan - International School of Medicine)

Research Seminar Highlights EJSMR conducted a dynamic Research Seminar at IUK-ISM. The seminar provided students and faculty with essential tools and knowledge to begin their research journey and successfully publish their work.

Key Objectives Achieved:

- Promoted research awareness and enthusiasm
- Delivered practical training on research writing and publication
- Supported the development of a strong research culture

